

No other service provider public or private in the nation provides the level of accurate and dependable coverage on local traffic and weather that XM does. I have been a subscriber since day one with XM and I am snubbed by such a petty attack on XM. For the last 2.5 years I have not listened to broadcast radio and the simple fact is that people like me are hurting the broadcast media giants? profit margins. With that said this attack is fully motivated by money and is NOT legitimately backed. The broadcast giants need to move forward with consumer trends and technological developments. If you limit XM programming you are limiting freedom of speech and condemning technological developments which increase our ability to receive accurate data in a timely manor.

Thank you for your time
